About Africa Cries Out

Africa Cries Out (Africacriesout.net) is a nonprofit organization dedicated to providing free medical care, education, and community support in underserved regions of West Africa. Since 2013, our teams of doctors, nurses, and volunteers have served thousands of patients and built long-term partnerships with local communities.

Purpose of Student Participation

Student volunteers play a vital role in logistics, translation, community outreach, and support services. Their participation provides:

- Cross-cultural and global service experience
- Leadership and teamwork skills
- Exposure to humanitarian and medical services in the field

We respectfully request that the school district excuse this student's absence for the duration of the mission so they may take part in this unique educational and humanitarian opportunity.

Thank you for your consideration.

Sincerely,

Jun Xu, M.D.
Chairman, Africa Cries Out
